

A few of you have asked how others can leave reviews for you. I recommend asking for a review right after you've been successful on an effort so it is fresh in the mind of the candidate/client. Let them know that you are trying to build on your professional profile and that any kind of a review would go a long way and would be greatly appreciated.

For Google Business Overview of the company

Here is the link to share : <https://g.page/r/CazO0439x6HjEBM/review>

I also recommend LinkedIn reviews, it's a great way to gain professional credibility.

There are options for individual skill reviews as well

Lastly, as an end of the year gesture, think about leaving a Glassdoor review. They are anonymous but are a common company reference point.

